Ministerial Directives

The Ombudsman reports directly to the Western Australian Parliament rather than to the government of the day, or a particular Minister, and Ministers cannot issue directives to the Ombudsman.

Other Financial Disclosures

Pricing policies of services provided

The Office currently receives revenue for the following functions:

- Costs for the Energy and Water Ombudsman functions are recouped from the Energy and Water Ombudsman (Western Australia) Limited on a full cost recovery basis. These costs are determined by the actual staffing costs involved in delivering the service plus an allowance for overheads and costs of particular operational expenses; and
- Under an arrangement with the Australian Government, the Office handles enquiries and complaints from the Indian Ocean Territories about local governments and Western Australian public authorities delivering services to the Indian Ocean Territories. Each year the Office recoups costs from the Australian Government for any complaints received from the Indian Ocean Territories. Cost recovery is based on the average cost per complaint in the last two years as published in the Office's annual reports. Administrative costs and the costs of any travel to the Indian Ocean Territories by the Ombudsman or staff and any promotional materials are also recouped in full.

Human resources strategies and staff development

The Office continued with the implementation of its Human Resources Strategic Plan 2019-21 and its human resources strategies during the year. These strategies aim to support the attraction and retention of staff and staff development through continuous professional development and performance management, through:

- Recruitment, retention and engagement of high quality and diverse staff

Recruitment practices continue to prove successful in attracting staff to apply for positions with the Office, with high numbers of quality applications received for positions advertised during the year. The Office provides benefits for staff such as flexible work options and part-time arrangements and this is promoted in all job advertisements. Staff have access to flexible work options, including part-time or purchased leave arrangements and work from home arrangements. In 2022-23, the Office continued implementation of the Office's Aboriginal Action Plan which includes a range of strategies to enhance the Office's services for, and engagement with, Aboriginal Western Australians. Employment was recognised as a key area of focus, and actions in the Aboriginal Action Plan related to employment include recruitment, retention and professional development for Aboriginal staff. In 2022-23, the Office also continued to implement the workforce strategies in its Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2020-2025 and committed to further diversity strategies through its Workforce and Diversity Plan 2021-2026 and Multicultural Plan 2021-2025.

- Accounting for individual performance

The Office's performance management system includes identifying expectations as well as performance-based recognition. Managers and staff annually formalise a performance agreement that provides a framework to:

- Identify and acknowledge the contribution employees make in the achievement of the Office's operational and strategic goals; and
- Develop and retain skilled employees and assist employees to achieve their professional and personal career goals.

- Continual learning

The Office is committed to providing a high quality Induction Program for new employees to the Office. The Online Induction mini-site and the Induction Reference Book are provided to all new employees. They contain useful information on the Office's strategic direction, structure and roles, policies and procedures and facilities.

New staff have provided feedback that the induction process is welcoming and useful in assisting new employees to understand the Office's direction, expectations and processes. The product has also proved valuable for existing staff members to keep them informed and updated about policy and governance issues within the Office.

The Office also provides continual learning for staff through a range of training sessions and the Staff Support Program. During 2022-23, staff participated in a range of training and development sessions including on equity, inclusion and diversity, disability awareness and Aboriginal cultural awareness. Where appropriate, the sessions use the expertise of senior staff of the Office to deliver the material. To supplement this in-house development, staff are encouraged to attend external training, conferences and seminars to improve their skills and knowledge in areas relevant to their work. These opportunities are facilitated through development plans as part of staff annual performance reviews and the continual learning assists with positioning the Office as an employer of choice.

- A safe and healthy workplace with good human resource practices

The Office utilises good human resource management practices and ensures a safe and healthy working environment. Work commenced on reviewing the work health and safety management system to align with the Work Health and Safety Act 2020. More information is in the Work health, safety and injury management section.

As well as the key human resource strategies outlined above, the Office's people management framework establishes the conduct and ethical behaviour expected of staff and the appropriate response to unethical behaviour.

Workforce and Diversity Plan

In 2020-21, the Office developed its Workforce and Diversity Plan 2021-2026 (the Workforce Plan). The Workforce Plan has been developed in accordance with the Public Sector Commissioner's Circular 2017-04: Equal Employment Opportunity Management Plans and Workforce Planning in the Public Sector and Part IX of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984. The Office's key focus areas for 2021-2026 are to continue to:

- Implement effective practices to recruit high quality staff, in particular for new functions;
- Attract and retain high quality staff, including by providing innovative flexible working arrangements and through graduate, intern and seasonal clerk programs;

- Provide staff development through quality induction, performance management, our Staff Support Program, training and study assistance;
- Implement strategies to improve diversity in the workforce for people from diverse cultural backgrounds, people from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander backgrounds, and for people with disability;
- Implement the strategies in the Office's Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2020-2025, Aboriginal Action Plan and Multicultural Plan 2021-2025; and
- Provide Corporate Executive with workforce reporting to support evaluation and ongoing review of the strategies in the Workforce and Diversity Plan.

Human resource policies

The Office has a suite of human resource policies that are regularly updated in line with the Office's strategies, guidance provided by external agencies and staff feedback processes. They include policies in the key areas of:

- Code of conduct;
- Preventing and managing inappropriate workplace behaviour;
- Recruitment, selection and appointment;
- Conflict of interest;
- Leave entitlements, including family and domestic violence workplace leave and support;
- Performance management, training and development;
- Employee relations, grievance resolution and discipline; and
- Employee health and wellbeing.

Staff of the Office hold corporate credit cards where their functions warrant the use of this facility.

Disability Access and Inclusion Plan outcomes

The Office is committed to providing optimum access and service to people with disability, their families and carers. In 2022-23, the Office continued to implement the strategies under its Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2020-2025 (DAIP). Current initiatives to address desired DAIP outcomes are shown below.

Outcome 1: People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to access the services of, and any events organised by, the Office.

People can access the complaint handling services provided by the Office by lodging a complaint in various ways including by post, email, online and in person. The online option is available through the Office's website, which meets the website accessibility requirements set out in the Accessibility and Inclusivity Standard under the Western Australia Whole of Government Digital Services Policy.

Staff ask and record where a person making a complaint to the Office is experiencing disability and, if so, record whether the person with disability requires any assistance to access the Office's services.

The Office is accessible for people with disability who attend in person, and enquiries can be made by telephone using the National Relay Service for people with voice or hearing impairments. Venues for events and meetings are assessed for suitable access for people with disability and dietary requirements are appropriately catered. Organisations that provide information and support to people with disability are specifically informed about the Office's activities as part of its Regional Awareness and Accessibility Program.

Outcome 2: People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to access the buildings and other facilities of the Office.

The Office's accommodation, building and facilities provide access for people with disability, including lifts that accommodate wheelchairs and feature braille on the access buttons. Accessible and ambulant toilets are located on all floors used by the Office (the Ground Floor, Level 2 and Level 3), and a low reception desk on Level 2 accommodates wheelchair access. The building also includes electronic doors at the entrance and through to the lifts, a ramp at the front of the building, and a disabled parking bay beneath the building.

Outcome 3: People with disability receive information from the Office in a format that will enable them to access the information as readily as other people are able to access it.

All Office documents are in plain English and publications are available in alternative formats on request. The Office's website meets the website accessibility requirements set out in the Accessibility and Inclusivity Standard under the Western Australia Whole of Government Digital Services Policy. Online documents are published in PDF format, and correspondence can be sent by email and is scanned with Optical Character Recognition to PDF format, compatible with screen reader technology.

Phone access is available through the National Relay Service for people with voice or hearing impairments calling the Office, and signs are provided in the reception area to assist visitors who have a hearing impairment.

The Office's Energy and Water Ombudsman website also features Browsealoud, a text-to-speech tool that assists people with low literacy or vision impairments to access the information on the website.

Outcome 4: People with disability receive the same level and quality of service from the staff of the Office as other people receive from the staff of the Office.

The services provided by the Office have been adapted to reduce access barriers for people with disability and information is available in various formats on request. The Office has an internal guideline for staff on Assisting complainants with vision, hearing or speech impairments. The document is part of the internal Complaint Handling Toolkit and provides useful information, contacts and procedures for all staff when dealing with a complainant with disability.

In 2022-23, staff received training in Understanding Neurodiversity. All new staff are asked to complete the Disability Awareness online training module produced by the Australian Government as part of their induction, along with information about the Office's DAIP and a video on providing services to people with disability, You Can Make A Difference produced by the (then) Disability Services Commission.

Outcome 5: People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to make complaints to the Office.

A key role of the Office is to handle complaints about public authorities and anyone with disability has an equal opportunity to make a complaint. Where necessary, the complaint process is modified to meet the needs of a person with disability. This includes meeting people outside the Office and modifying communication strategies, for example, by using an interpreter (such as the National Relay Service or Auslan interpreter) where required.

Information on reviews of decisions in relation to complaints to the Ombudsman and making a complaint about the Ombudsman's other services is accessible from the website and is available in alternative formats.

Outcome 6: People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to participate in any public consultation by the Office.

Staff and members of the public with disability have an equal opportunity to participate in any consultation process of the Office. Any public consultation conducted by the Office and promoted on the website meets disability access requirements. Documents released for public consultation can also be made available in alternative formats to meet the needs of people with disability.

Outcome 7: People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to obtain and maintain employment with the Office.

The Office's accommodation, building and facilities provide access for people with disability, including lifts and walkways that accommodate wheelchairs and feature braille on the access buttons. Accessible and ambulant toilets are located on all floors used by the Office. The Office also provides suitable equipment to enable employees with vision impairments to access electronic information.

People with disability are encouraged to apply for positions in the Office and recruitment processes are modified as required to enable people with disability to have the same opportunity as other people to compete on merit for advertised positions. The Office monitors the proportion of applicants with disability to ensure its recruitment processes are accessible. A report on the proportion of applicants and proportion of staff reporting disability is provided to the Office's Corporate Executive.

Appropriate modifications are made to the duties undertaken, hours of work and/or equipment required to enable employees with disability, or who acquire disability, to maintain productive employment with the Office.

Compliance with Public Sector Standards and Ethical Codes

In the administration of the Office, the Ombudsman has complied with the Public Sector Standards in Human Resource Management, the Code of Ethics and the Office's Code of Conduct.

Procedures designed to ensure such compliance have been put in place and appropriate internal assessments are conducted to satisfy the Ombudsman that the above statement is correct.

The following table identifies action taken to monitor and ensure compliance with public sector standards and ethical codes.

Significant action to monitor and ensure compliance with Western Australian Public Sector Standards

Managers and staff are aware of, and are required to comply with, the Public Sector Standards in Human Resource Management (the Standards). This is supported by policies and procedures relating to the Standards, regular professional development for managers and staff about the Standards and related policies, and the inclusion of the policies in the induction process. Monitoring provisions include:

- For recruitment, selection and appointment, an individual review of each process is undertaken prior to the final decision to ensure compliance with the Employment Standard;
- A review process to ensure that, for acting opportunities and secondments, a merit-based process is used and there are no inadvertent extensions that result in long-term opportunities without expressions of interest or a full merit selection process;
- A monitoring process to ensure there are current performance management processes in place for all employees; and
- The continuous development of policies and procedures in accordance with the Standards to ensure compliance and relevancy.

Compliance issues: Internal reviews have shown compliance with the Standards is achieved before any final decision is made. There have been no breaches found of the Standards.

Significant action to monitor and ensure compliance with the Code of Ethics and the Office's Code of Conduct

The Code of Ethics and the Office's Code of Conduct (Ethical Codes) are available on the Office's intranet and are part of the Online Induction for new staff. Guidelines for Ethical and Accountable Decision Making have been developed as a ready reference for staff when dealing with a difficult situation related to the Ethical Codes. The Guidelines are based on the Accountable and Ethical Decision Making in the WA Public Sector training materials provided by the Public Sector Commissioner. Ninety-five per cent of current delegated staff of the Ombudsman have attended Accountable and Ethical Decision Making (AEDM) training in the last five years and all new staff in 2022-23 were provided with access to AEDM training.

The Office's Code of Conduct supports the Code of Ethics and links the Office's corporate values with expected standards of personal conduct. All staff, contractors and consultants who carry out work for, or on behalf of, the Office are required to comply with the spirit of the Code of Conduct. On appointment, all staff sign the Code of Conduct to confirm their understanding of its application in the workplace and swear an oath or make an affirmation about maintaining appropriate confidentiality.

Ethics and conduct related policies have been developed, including policies and procedures for declaring and managing conflicts of interest and gifts, benefits and hospitality. The Ethical Codes and related policies are included in the induction process and there is regular professional development for managers and staff about the Ethical Codes and related policies.

The Office has procedures in place for reporting unethical behaviour and misconduct. The Office also has a policy and internal procedures relating to Public Interest Disclosures and strongly supports disclosures being made by staff.

Monitoring provisions for Ethical Codes include:

- High level review, and Ombudsman, Deputy Ombudsman or Principal Assistant Ombudsman sign off, for management of conflicts of interest and gifts, benefits and hospitality, as well as reviews each year by the Deputy Ombudsman of the registers of conflicts of interest and gifts, benefits and hospitality to determine if there are any patterns or trends that need action by the Office;
- High level consideration and sign off of requests for review of the Office's handling of a complaint and any complaints about the conduct of staff; and
- Seeking opportunities to improve current practices through internal audits and reviewing policies and procedures to ensure compliance and relevancy. Internal audits conducted each year are referred to the Office's Internal Audit Committee and Risk Management Committee.

Compliance issues: There has been no evidence of non-compliance with the Ethical Codes.

Corporate governance framework

The Office's corporate governance framework is based on the Public Sector Commissioner's Good Governance Guide for Public Sector Agencies.

Principle 1: Government and public sector relationship

(The organisation's relationship with the government is clear)

The Ombudsman is an independent officer appointed by the Governor of Western Australia. The Ombudsman is responsible directly to the Parliament rather than to the government of the day or a particular Minister. The Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1971 regulates the operations of the Office.

Delegations for communication and interaction between Ministers and other Parliamentary representatives are identified in the Office's instruments of delegation, in particular those relating to external communications, and staff are aware of these delegations.

Principle 2: Management and oversight

(The organisation's management and oversight are accountable and have clearly defined responsibilities)

The Office's Strategic Plan 2022-25 (Strategic Plan) provides a framework for the strategic direction of the Office with identifiable key measures of success. The Office's operational planning identifies how the key strategies in the Strategic Plan will be achieved through a detailed list of key projects, measures and targets.

Chief Executive Officer delegations are set out in the Office's Instrument of Delegation – Chief Executive Officer Functions. Statutory delegations under the Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1971 and administrative arrangements for statutory roles are set out in the Ombudsman Western Australia, Statutory Delegations and Administrative Arrangements document.

The Office has a strong organisational policy framework covering governance, conduct, communications, information technology, human resources, finance and procurement. Policies and guidelines are available to staff through the Office's intranet and as part of the Online Induction.

The Office has an Internal Audit Charter and Committee and a Risk Management Committee.

Principle 3: Organisational structure

(The organisation's structure services its operations)

Decision making responsibilities for the Office lie with the Corporate Executive, comprising the Ombudsman, Deputy Ombudsman, and all Assistant Ombudsmen.

The Office's organisational structure has been created in line with its operations and reflects its key strategic direction. The Office undertakes continuous improvement to the structure to ensure it remains relevant and effective with changes linked to the Strategic Plan and redirection of resources within the structure to respond to workload priorities. An organisational chart provides a reference for staff on the intranet.

Principle 4: Operations

(The organisation plans its operations to achieve its goals)

The organisational structure, operational planning, business processes and key performance indicators are linked to the strategic goals and outcomes in the Strategic Plan. Progress toward key performance indicators and major strategic projects is monitored through reports to the Corporate Executive and is reported in the Annual Report each year.

Effective achievement of goals is supported by an online Complaint Handling Toolkit, available to all enquiry and investigating staff for the purpose of achieving consistent, efficient and effective complaint handling. In addition, a Panel provides independent advice to the Ombudsman on matters relevant to child deaths and family and domestic violence fatalities. For the role of Energy and Water Ombudsman, the Office prepares a Business Plan and Budget for approval by the Board of the Energy and Water Ombudsman each year.

Principle 5: Ethics and integrity

(Ethics and integrity are embedded in the organisation's values and operations)

The Office's values are to be fair, independent and impartial, and accountable (including being rigorous, responsible and efficient). In line with these values, the Ombudsman observes an independent and impartial approach to the conduct of investigations as well as observing procedural fairness at all times. Ethics and integrity are contained within the Code of Conduct and Guidelines for Accountable and Ethical Decision Making. Staff are required to sign a Conduct Agreement to confirm their understanding of the application of the Code.

Staff are made aware of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2003, the Office's Public Interest Disclosure Officers and the protections that apply, during induction, regular refresher training and through the Office's intranet and noticeboards. Staff are also made aware of the Office's Conflict of Interest Policy and Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality Policy and registers and how they should be declared and managed. When declarations are made, a senior manager assesses the appropriate action to be taken.

Principle 6: People

(The organisation's leadership in people management contributes to individual and organisational achievements)

It is a strategic direction of the Office to attract, develop and retain a skilled and valued workforce with a culture that supports high quality, responsive and efficient service; and to treat people professionally, courteously and with appropriate sensitivity.

The Office continues to implement human resource strategies which focus on the recruitment, retention and engagement of high quality staff; accounting for individual performance and development; and continual learning. The Workforce and Diversity Plan 2021-2026 provides a strong workforce planning framework to support the achievement of these strategies.

The Office has a strong human resources policy framework covering employee conduct; establishment and classification of positions; filling vacancies and employee movements; performance management, training and development; employee relations, grievance resolution and discipline; conditions of employment and leave; as well as policies on occupational safety and health. The processes in the human resources policies are consistent with the Public Sector Management Act 1994 and the Public Sector Standards in Human Resource Management.

Principle 7: Finance

(The organisation safeguards financial integrity and accountability)

The Office produces an annual budget which is approved by the Ombudsman. The monitoring of actual versus budget along with financial integrity and accountability is secured through reporting to the Corporate Executive and the Ombudsman.

An Internal Audit Committee reviews an audit of financial management each year against the policies and procedures in the Manual. The financial audit for 2022-23 found effective controls are in place. The Office also has a well-documented and easy to follow Financial Management Manual designed to assist employees to perform their tasks efficiently and effectively and achieve compliance with all internal and external requirements. The processes in the Manual are consistent with legislation and relevant Treasurer's Instructions.

Principle 8: Communication

(The organisation communicates with all parties in a way that is accessible, open and responsive)

To ensure services are accessible, open and responsive, the Office communicates with its key stakeholders using a range of communication channels, adapted to suit the audience. Further information is included in the Collaboration and Access to Services section of this Annual Report. The Office also provides guidance and training for engaging with Aboriginal people, children and young people, people with disability and people from culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) backgrounds.

Policies covering recordkeeping, records management and communications ensure the Office safeguards the confidentiality and integrity of information, preventing unauthorised or false disclosure. Staff meetings and separate team meetings provide a forum for sharing information internally and the Staff Consultative Committee has input into Office policies and procedures that affect staff. The Committee is made up of management and staff representatives from all teams in the Office, the Work Health and Safety representatives, the union representatives and the Aboriginal Engagement and Collaboration Branch.

Principle 9: Risk management

(The organisation identifies and manages its risks)

The Office identifies and manages its risk through a Risk Management Plan that is considered by the Office's Risk Management Committee as part of the Committee's regular meetings and submitted to the Internal Audit Committee. The Risk Management Plan continues to be relevant and consistent with the Office's Strategic Plan. The Office also has a Business Continuity Plan to ensure it can respond to, and recover from, any business disruption.

Under the Risk Management Plan, controls have been identified for significant risks and any action required is assigned to a relevant member of Corporate Executive. The internal Strategic Audit Plan is based on the areas of risk identified in the Risk Management Plan and the Internal Audit Committee oversees the audit plan and audits for each year.

A financial audit was conducted for 2022-23 and showed internal controls are being maintained to ensure compliance with relevant legislation and policies.

Recordkeeping Plans

The Office is committed to maintaining a strong records management framework and aims for best practice recordkeeping practices. The Office is continuously improving recordkeeping practices to ensure they are consistent with the requirements of the State Records Act 2000 and meet the needs of the Office for high quality recordkeeping. The Office's framework includes:

- A Recordkeeping Plan, a Retention and Disposal Schedule, a Records Management Policy, a Records File Classification Plan and Security Framework and a Records Disaster Recovery Plan;
- An electronic document records management system (EDRMS) called HPE Content Manager was implemented in 2005 and subsequently upgraded in 2011-12, 2015-16 and 2020-21;
- The Office's case management databases; and
- A series of guidelines and a user manual, together with an online training module, are made available to staff.

Electronic Document Records Management System

All incoming, outgoing and significant internal documents are saved electronically into the EDRMS. Staff are required to save their final electronic documents and correspondence, including electronic mail and facsimiles directly into the EDRMS.

The Office utilises an electronic case management system (RESOLVE) for the management of complaints in the Ombudsman and Energy and Water Ombudsman jurisdictions, and in the review of child deaths and family and domestic violence fatalities. RESOLVE is directly integrated with the EDRMS, allowing records and related cases to be accessed and updated through RESOLVE.

Evaluation and review of efficiency and effectiveness of systems and training

The Office's recordkeeping processes, policies and guidelines are reviewed regularly to ensure compliance with the Records Management Framework and promote best practice recordkeeping. In 2021-22, a review of the Office's Retention and Disposal Schedule and File Classification Plan and Security Framework was completed.

The Office's Retention and Disposal Schedule for Functional Records was approved by the State Records Commission on 13 May 2022, and subsequently implemented in the EDRMS.

The efficiency and effectiveness of the recordkeeping training program is reviewed regularly through monitoring staff use of the EDRMS to ensure that staff are following the recordkeeping requirements of the Office. As part of a program of regular reviews of the effectiveness of the Office's recordkeeping systems, the results of staff recordkeeping surveys are used to develop targeted training and other programs to address common themes across the Office.

Induction and training

All records-related plans, policies, guidelines and manuals are available on the Office's intranet to assist staff to comply with their recordkeeping requirements and include user friendly guides for training staff.

The Office's Online Induction mini-site includes a section on recordkeeping. This is part of the induction process for new staff and is also available as a resource for existing staff members. The induction process also includes individual training sessions with new staff members conducted by the Records and Customer Service Manager soon after appointment. Follow up training and help desk assistance are provided as required. Recordkeeping roles and responsibilities are also included in Accountable and Ethical Decision Making training and the Office's Code of Conduct, which is signed by all staff on appointment.

The Office has an online training module to further strengthen and maintain staff recordkeeping practices.

Government Policy Requirements

WA Multicultural Policy Framework

In 2020-21, the Office developed its Multicultural Plan 2021-2025 (Multicultural Plan). The strategies in the Multicultural Plan are aligned with the Government's Western Australian Multicultural Policy Framework for the WA public sector. The Multicultural Plan is a four-year plan and will act as a key strategic document to guide the Office's service responsiveness, employment opportunities and community outputs for people of CaLD backgrounds.

Below is a summary of the Office's key achievements under its Multicultural Plan in 2022-23.

Policy priority 1: Harmonious and inclusive communities

To increase the cultural competency skills of staff, the Diverse WA online module produced by the Office of Multicultural Interests and the Public Sector Commission's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultural awareness online training are part of the induction of all new staff. As at 30 June 2023, 63% of all staff have completed both online training modules.

The Office supports an inclusive workplace. In 2022-23, the Office's Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) Council developed a calendar of events that are important to CaLD communities. Key events were promoted to staff.

In October 2022, the Office's EDI Council held an interactive staff development session which promoted the "language of inclusion".

Policy priority 2: Culturally responsive policies, programs and services

The Office captures cultural and linguistic data about its staff and about people who access the Office's services to monitor representation of diversity groups, including people from CaLD backgrounds. In 2022-23, the Office continued to collect country of birth information from staff and report the results to the Corporate Executive. Staff ask for, and record, information about country of birth and language so that the Office can continually assess accessibility to its services for people from CaLD backgrounds.

The Office is developing and enhancing its recruitment strategies to improve representation of employees from CaLD backgrounds. In 2022-23, further work was done on job advertisements and recruitment documents based on feedback from the EDI Council aimed at encouraging job applications from people of CaLD backgrounds.

The Office is increasing its engagement with, and access for, CaLD communities. In 2022-23, the Office sent information about its regional visits to organisations that work with CaLD communities, attended a WA Multicultural Policy Framework Interagency Network meeting hosted by the Office of Multicultural Interests in May 2023, and held an information stall at the Multicultural Communities Council of WA Mental Health Symposium and mini-expo in June 2023.

Policy priority 3: Economic, social, cultural, civic and political participation

The Office is developing initiatives that support people from CaLD backgrounds to enter leadership positions. In 2022-23, the Office monitored representation of people from CaLD backgrounds across employment levels.

Substantive equality

The Office does not currently have obligations under the Framework for Substantive Equality. However, the Office is committed to the intent and substance of the policy, including the elimination of systemic racial discrimination in the delivery of public services, and the promotion of sensitivity to the different needs of key stakeholders.

Needs assessment

The Office is committed to understanding the needs of Aboriginal people and people from CaLD backgrounds and setting objectives to overcome barriers in service delivery for these groups. The Office regularly assesses the impact of our service delivery practices on Aboriginal people and people from CaLD backgrounds.

In 2022-23, the Office's Aboriginal staff continued work to raise awareness and improve accessibility to the Office for Aboriginal people as well as providing expert advice and support relating to the needs of Aboriginal people for staff undertaking the Office's functions.

In 2022-23, the Office continued implementation of the Aboriginal Action Plan, a comprehensive whole-of-office plan to address the significant disadvantage faced by Aboriginal people in Western Australia. The plan contributes to an overall goal of developing an organisation that is welcoming and culturally safe for Aboriginal people and meets the unique needs of the Aboriginal community it serves.

In addition to the Aboriginal Action Plan, the Office continued with its Regional Awareness and Accessibility Program in 2022-23. The Program recognises the historical under-representation of Aboriginal people accessing the Office's services and focuses on access for Aboriginal and regional Western Australians. This Program is an important way for the Office to:

- Ensure awareness of, and accessibility to, its services for Aboriginal Western Australians in regional and remote locations; and
- Provide a valuable opportunity for the Office to strengthen its understanding of the issues affecting Aboriginal people.

The Office has also identified a range of other strategies to overcome barriers to service delivery, including:

- Involvement in outreach activities in metropolitan areas to raise community awareness of, and access to, the Office's services;
- Attending adult prisons and Banksia Hill Detention Centre to meet with prisoners and juvenile detainees, and prisoner representative groups, to understand their specific needs and be available to take complaints. An Aboriginal consultant and/or Aboriginal staff attends these meetings to assist staff to understand the issues involved and to facilitate cross cultural communication;
- Involving Aboriginal staff and Aboriginal consultants in relevant own motion investigations and as part of the Ombudsman's Advisory Panel to provide independent advice on issues and trends and contemporary professional practice within the scope of the child death and family and domestic violence fatality review functions;
- Consultation activities specifically targeted to Aboriginal and CaLD communities;

- Involving Aboriginal staff in regional visits and complaints involving Aboriginal people;
- Providing information on our services in 17 languages in addition to English on our website, through translated information sheets and posters for the general community and translated simplified information sheets tailored for children and young people. All publications are available in alternative formats and can be translated into other languages on request;
- Providing the Browsealoud text to speech tool on our Energy and Water Ombudsman website which provides audio and translation of the website;
- Promoting details for Translating and Interpreting Services on the website and in publications for people with English as a second language. Interpreters and translators are regularly used when resolving complaints; and
- Complaints can be written in the person's first language and the Office arranges translators for the incoming complaint and outgoing response and staff use interpreters, either face-to-face or by telephone, when discussing complaints.

Monitoring

The Office monitors whether services respond to the different needs of Aboriginal people and people from CaLD backgrounds, including:

- Seeking demographic information from people who make complaints to enable the Office to monitor whether its services are used by all of the Western Australian community, particularly those who may find it difficult to access services;
- Collecting demographic data relating to reviews of child deaths and family and domestic violence fatalities to identify patterns and trends in relation to these deaths; and
- Seeking advice of specialist consultants in relation to the relevance and appropriateness of reports relating to own motion investigations.

Organisational performance appraisal

The Office undertakes ongoing performance appraisal of access to services and appropriate service delivery for Aboriginal people and people from CaLD backgrounds.

In 2022-23, the Office's complaint resolution services were accessed by people from a diverse range of backgrounds, comparable to the Western Australian population. In particular, for people whose complaints were received in 2022-23:

- 11% of people identified as Aboriginal, compared to 3.5% of the population;
- 33% of people were born overseas compared to 34.2% of the population; and
- 18.3% of people were born in a country where English is not the main language, compared to 18.9% of the population.

Learning and development

The Office promotes learning and development to ensure that its employees are equipped with the skills and knowledge necessary to understand and meet the needs of Aboriginal people and people from CaLD backgrounds, including:

- Aboriginal cross-cultural awareness training, including cultural awareness training for all staff of the Office and information about culturally important dates and events in the community by the Office's Aboriginal Engagement and Collaboration Branch, and utilising the Public Sector Commission's Sharing Culture, an online Aboriginal cultural awareness training module;
- Training staff in identifying language related barriers to communication, including utilising the Office of Multicultural Interests' Diverse WA cultural competency training module; and
- Appropriately engaging with interpreters and telephone translators to ensure equitable access to our services.

Work health, safety and injury management

Commitment to work health and safety and injury management

The Office is committed to ensuring a safe and healthy workplace. The goal is for a workplace that is free from work-related injuries and diseases by developing and implementing safe systems of work and by continuing to identify hazards and control risks as far as practicable.

The Office maintains a Work Health and Safety (WHS) framework that includes:

- Safe work practices;
- Managing and reporting workplace hazards, incidents and injuries;
- Injury management, including a Return to Work Program that extends to non-work related injuries;
- Emergency procedures;
- Trained first aid officers and regular checks of first aid supplies; and
- General employee health and wellbeing, including an Employee Assistance Program.

All employees and contractors are made aware of their WHS responsibilities through an Online Induction that includes a component on WHS as well as safe work practices in an office environment. This is also used as an information source for existing staff. The Office's policies and guidelines are also accessible to employees through the Office's intranet.

There is a strong executive commitment to the health, safety and wellbeing of staff. Hazards and other issues relating to health, safety and wellbeing can be raised with elected WHS representatives or directly with a member of the Corporate Executive, and key issues are brought to the attention of the Ombudsman, who is committed to their prompt and effective resolution.

Consultation

The Office promotes a consultative environment in which management, staff and other stakeholders work together to continually improve WHS practices. Formal mechanisms for consultation with employees and others on WHS matters include:

- The Office has WHS responsibilities within its tenancy and also works closely with the building management at Albert Facey House to ensure a safe working environment is maintained;
- The Office has an elected WHS Representative who acts as an important link between management and staff, so that they can work together and arrive at solutions to make the workplace safe;
- The Staff Consultative Committee has WHS responsibilities and the Office's WHS Representative is a standing member of the Committee. WHS matters are a standing item on the agenda to allow Committee members to refer matters raised by staff to the Committee for resolution and inform their team of issues and safe working practices raised at Committee meetings;
- The Management Consultative Committee has WHS as a standing item on its agenda and managers receive training in their WHS responsibilities;
- There is dissemination of WHS information and discussion at team meetings; and
- There is training on WHS matters for both management and staff.

Statement of compliance

The Office complies with the injury management requirements of the Workers' Compensation and Injury Management Act 1981 and is committed to providing injury management support to all workers who sustain a work related injury or illness with a focus on a safe and early return to their pre-injury/illness position. Rehabilitation support is also provided to employees with non-work related injuries or when recovering from a protracted illness.

As part of this approach, the Office encourages early intervention in injury management, and ensures there is early and accurate medical assessment and management of each injury, work related or not.

Assessment of WHS systems

The Office has been preparing to implement the WHS Management Plan in accordance with the Work Health and Safety Act 2020 which includes guidelines detailing WHS roles and responsibilities within the Office and outlining the approach to identify, assess and control hazards and the associated risks. The Office's WHS systems are included in the Internal Audit Program.

Internal evaluation of the accommodation at Albert Facey House is ongoing and workplace inspections are undertaken regularly by the Office's elected WHS Representatives. Any WHS changes identified are promptly addressed.

There is ongoing review of the Office's emergency procedures, including for dealing with unreasonable conduct by visitors to the Office, and there are regular trial evacuations of Albert Facey House, where fire alarms are activated and all staff within the building are evacuated for drill purposes.
